

The Infectious Diseases Service (www.chuv.ch/min) is part of the Medicine Department at the University Hospital Lausanne, Switzerland. It provides a stimulating environment with strong interactions between fundamental and clinical research, as well as important links with microbiology and infection control.

The Service is providing a two-year research position for a:

Chief Resident (full time)

In order to set up clinical studies in the field of phagotherapy.

The candidate should provide :

- Good clinical experience in an internal medicine specialty (if possible infectious diseases) or microbiology.
- Strong experience in the setup/development of clinical research (including methodological, ethical and legal aspects)
- A Swiss Diploma in Medicine or equivalent (MD or MD/PhD)

Position open for: May 1st 2018.

Contact

Prof. Pierre-Yves Bochud, Médecin chef
Service des maladies infectieuses
CHUV
Rue du Bugnon 46
1011 Lausanne
e-mail : Pierre-Yves.Bochud@chuv.ch